

From the General Manager

We have the technology... but how do we use it, is it helpful, and is it safe?

In today's fast paced digital world, it is becoming increasingly challenging to keep up with the ever-evolving technology landscape and to keep safe from nasty cyber criminals.

If, like me, you find yourself struggling to navigate through overly complex online processes, we may have a solution. Easylink have been fortunate enough to receive support from the Good Things Foundation to run a series of training sessions aimed at helping Australians to improve their skills and confidence in using digital technology. These training sessions will cover a myriad of topics from basic computing, getting online, using online forms and payment processes, all the way through to social media and online collaboration tools. The best bit is, you choose the topics and can learn what you want at your own pace with support from a real human that will guide you through the material. This training will be at our office in Cromer, and we will provide door to door transport, the training session and morning tea for only $10 for subsidised passengers.

If, however, you are looking for specific training on cyber security, thanks to support from the Federal Government and Manly Computer Pals, we will be running a number of training sessions specifically targeted to online security and staying safe online. For this one we will be heading to Manly for the training session and then out to lunch afterwards. A great way to learn more about cyber security in a relaxed social environment.

We do hope to see you at these sessions, though if this is not your cup of tea, we have a bunch of other outings on this month including ever popular trips to Innovations and the Taren Point Bowling Club, and of course now that winter is almost here, a nice hearty Christmas in July lunch at the Totem Club.

Stay safe everyone.

Dan
