

From the General Manager

After a quieter few months on the social outings front, October and November are going to be a great way to shrug off winter and warm up for summer.

From Sydney Zoo to Darrell Lea Chocolates, and a combination of old favourites and new locations for lunches across Sydney, there is hopefully something for all tastes.

We will also be taking a trip to the Brett Whiteley art museum, exploring innovations and the new Bunnings super centre in Frenchs Forest, and joining the team at the Fiddler in Rouse Hill for their end of year celebration.

Please join us for our next cyber security training event on the 16th of October too. This is a completely free event, and includes transport, lunch and valuable insights on how to stay safe online.

And don't forget that in addition to the amazing outings that we have on offer, we also have a fleet of cars and vans that travel up and down the beaches and can help you get to appointments, to the shops or just catch-up with friends and family. If you would like help getting out and about, we are more than happy to help and can provide transport anywhere on the Northern Beaches between 7am and 7pm 7 days a week.
